

Since 1949, the France–Canada Association has developed Franco-Canadian programmes aimed at fostering knowledge, exchanges, contacts and partnerships between the two countries in the economic, cultural and educational sectors.

The Defense and Strategy Forum (FDS) is an association whose aim is to offer exchange platforms (workshops, seminars, etc.) on defense issues and International relations between actors from the transatlantic and European communities.

Both associations are the initiators of the France–Canada Future Leaders Program.

Following three initial editions (2024, 2025, 2026), the France–Canada Association and the Forum de Défense et de Stratégie continue to pool their strengths and networks in order to sustain this programme aimed at strengthening strategic relations between Canada and France, as well as with other members of the Euro-Atlantic community.

France–Canada Future Leaders Programme – 2024, 2025 and 2026 Cohorts

Throughout the various activities of the programme, in addition to a number of meetings and discussions with key officials, several conferences and colloquia were organised. These included events held at the Paris Defence and Strategy Forum (on transatlantic security architecture), at the Embassy of France in Canada (on future zones of tension and conflict by 2030), and at ENAP (on the Arctic). These conferences are available on the website of the Forum de Défense et de Stratégie.

Several publications have also been released, whether in the form of strategic briefs for the Réseau d'Analyse Stratégique or as special journal issues, such as the issue of Revue Défense Nationale published in March 2025. Additional publications related to the 2026 cohort will be released by winter 2027.

The success of this programme also relies heavily on the involvement of numerous partners in each edition, whose contributions significantly enhance the activities carried out. Given their number, it is not feasible to list all of them within half a page; however, we would like to highlight here the strong commitment and invaluable support provided in particular by the following partners over the past three editions:
